WOMEN AGAINST A POLYGAMOUS LAWMAKER.

To the Editor of the Journal: Following the reading of Miss Gould's resolution Mrs. Watts announced that a set of resolutions to be signed by the women present at the meeting had been prepared. She read the resolution, and asked that all the women in the room step up and sign them; she also requested that married women sign as 'Mrs.,' and follow with the given names of their husbands.

The resolutions were read, and subsequent to adjournment the women flocked to the platform to sign. Following is the resolution and the names of the signers:

I feel that the influence attributed to me has been exaggerated in this movement, but what little I am capable of accomplishing I will do willingly. This is not an association here to-day. It is only a meeting of women, protesting against the seating in Congress of a man who advocates and practises polgamy. I am glad to have an opportunity to register my protest with the rest. The beauty of its home life has been the pride of our country in the past; we have been noted for the chivalry and respect shown by men to women.

It would be sad, indeed, to see a man who stands for the Oriental harem seated among our lawmakers. I earnestly hope that men will feel willing to write their Congressmen, urging them to rise in protest 7 against Mr. Roberts when Congress opens.
